

The

ROCKHILL TROLLEY MUSEUM

Invites you to ride the P&W Centennial Charter and join us in celebrating 100 years of continuous service on the historic Philadelphia and Western Railway.

SUNDAY MAY 20, 2007
DEPARTING 69th STREET
TERMINAL AT 9:45 AM SHARP!!

At 6:00 AM on May 22, 1907, the first passenger trip on the line left 69th Street Terminal. Join us as we charter a one or two-car train of N5s on the line, which is now currently SEPTA's Norristown High Speed Line or Route 100, to commemorate this event. We will make several round trips that include express runs, and many photo stops or run-bys. Be sure to bring your camera or just sit back and relax.

We will return to 69th Street around 1:30 PM. Available seats are limited to insure everyone a seat on board and trip proceeds will support the ongoing maintenance and restoration of the P&W Collection at the museum, including Car 205, the only operating P&W Brill Bullet Car.

Don't miss this fun-filled and historic day with your fellow railfans. Send your reservations in promptly to guarantee your seat. The deadline for reservations is May 6, 2007. Please make checks or money orders payable to Railways To Yesterday, Inc. No tickets will be mailed; you will be checked in on the morning of the tour.
